

Vessel Mobilization

Several products and services are offered to certain types of consumers in a marine and offshore company. Moreover, not all services are offered by all businesses due to limited resources. During this month, one of our vessels, BIMA LAPAN has recently been mobilized on the 2nd February 2013. She is a infield utility vessel.

BEST PAKAT OF THE MONTH

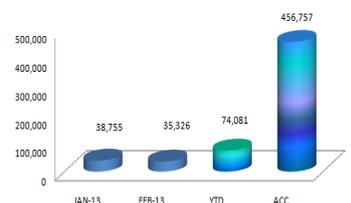

During transferring of hand carry at CPDP 39 (diesel), the gallon fall into the sea (water surface). The situation also very dangerous for every activity at sea because it is effected by strong wind and strong wave during that time (HSE). By using VHF from the deck, I informed to the captain on duty, that situation unsafe for any transfer activities. I explained to him about our safety situation and the hazard during that time. He agreed and thanked me for advice and information, we immediately stopped all the activities and declared it unsafe situation.
