

Another year has gone by, a year that was full of challenges. The experiences we had gained should encourage us to face the New Year with more confidence even though we are facing the Global economy crisis. I want all employees to be aware of the risks they face on a daily basis, take steps to manage those risks and dedicate ourselves to pause and remind about our commitments to Safety. Our goal in 2015 is to have Goal Zero, no leaks or incidents that could harm our people, assets, environment or reputation.
